Court voids sales tax ...but only in its present form

By GEORGEANN McGEE
for the Press-Record

Granite City's added one percent sales tax has been ruled unconstitutional in its present form and, "It's just what we wanted," said Bill Woodrome of Woodrome Olds Inc. "They do have a right to appeal... (but) we feel stronger in an appeal."

One of two car dealers to challenge Granite City's added one percent sales tax, Woodrome said the decision of Associate Judge Edward Ferguson Thursday was the "most favorable" outcome they could have been expected.

Judge Ferguson's order, declaring the sales tax unconstitutional, however would not bar the city from passing a successful "re-enacted ordinance," if such an ordinance corrected constitutional defects in the original law.

The defect the judge found in the sales tax was references in the ordinance to an occupation tax, limited to the one percent already being collected by the state.

The judge ordered, "That all subject matter within the body of that ordinance deals with the occupation tax and therefore the entire ordinance must be ruled invalid because it is related to the same topic." (see text below)

An fifth-hour amendment to the ordinance, approved by the council two days before Judge Ferguson's decision, failed to change the legality of the entire ordinance, even though the entire ordinance had been reapproved as part of the amended ordinance.

The judge ignored the content of the amendment, ruling an invalid ordinance cannot be corrected by an adoption of an amendment. He did not say whether or not a re-enacted ordinance incorporating the wording of the amendment would be declared constitutional.

City Attorney John Papa previously told Aldermen the amendment "might make the difference" if the court decision was not favorable to the city.

Woodrome said he was "kind of surprised" that his challenge had been successful at the local level. He said he had expected to take the case to the Illinois Supreme Court. "We felt we were right."

The car dealer said that as soon as the decision was known, he began receiving congratulations from both local merchants and residents.

The ruling did not tell merchants what they should do with tax funds already collected from customers during the 18 days the ordinance did remain in effect.

David Nolan, administrative assistant to the Mayor Paul Schuler, said that Thursday, he began telling merchants to stop collecting the tax. Nolan said the city's department of revenue had started a telephone campaign to inform merchants not to continue with the collection.

Nolan said the city also will be sending out an informational letter to merchants on the sales tax situation, but officials are waiting now for any further developments.

Woodrome already has made plans to give the sales tax back to his customers. He said he has a record of every name and transaction since the tax was initiated. Checks will be mailed early this week.

"I am going to issue checks to every (qualifying) customer," Woodrome said. He said his understanding, based on previous conversations with his attorney, that he has the option of either refunding the money or sending the money to the taxing body. He said merchants can not profit from the tax.

Customers to his car showroom had been informed by Woodrome they would receive the refund if the tax was declared unconstitutional. "Almost every potential customer asked about the tax... and we explained we would refund," Woodrome said.

According to the dealer, his sales dropped immediately after the tax had been enacted the first of the month.

Thanksgiving closings here

With Thanksgiving this Thursday, almost everyone will have the day off, and many will have a four-day holiday.

All schools will be closed for four days, beginning Thursday. There will be no mail delivery on Thanksgiving, as all U. S. Government offices are closed, but the post offices will open again on Friday, including mail delivery and full lobby services.

The Madison County Courthouse offices will be closed for four days, along with most state of Illinois offices and Granite City and Madison municipal offices.

Venue city offices will be open Friday.

The Illinois Drivers' License Examining Station, 1815 Edison Ave., will be closed Thursday and Friday, will open Saturday from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., and then will be closed Sunday and Monday.

Area banks and other financial institutions are closing on Thursday only, resuming normal hours on Friday. The Granite City Press-Record will publish on Wednesday, be closed Thursday and will resume regular hours of 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Friday.

There will be no trash pick-ups in Granite City Thursday in Granite City, however there will be day-late pickups on Friday in the South St. Louis area. Most area stores will close Thursday and resume regular hours on Friday.

UP ON THE ROOF. Chimney sweeps Ray and Diane Kramer prepare to tackle another chimney in this special effect photo. The Kramers have started Klean Sweep Chimney Service, the first such service in Granite City in many years. The two carry on the tradition of chimney sweeps wearing top hats and tails, adding a touch of class to the otherwise dirty, but necessary, job. They stress that chimneys of wood-burning fireplaces should be cleaned twice yearly to avoid a buildup of creosote which can cause chimney fires. Details on the new business appear inside today's issue.

Utility tax the 'only alternative'--Schuler

Thursday, the day Granite City's additional sales tax was declared unconstitutional, Mayor Paul Schuler said he was disappointed that aldermen had not taken his initial recommendation to pass a utility tax, saying a utility tax is still the fairest way to raise needed revenue.

Schuler said he had been against the city sales tax, but had been "willing to accept the aldermen's solution... it apparently worked hardships on those who could least afford it."

Aldermen had approved the sales tax after fighting a utility tax recommended by the mayor. To block any attempts at passage, the council had passed a motion not to impose a utility tax.

Last July, James Stack, president of the Granite City Steel division of National Steel Corp., sent a letter to Alderman Paul Ray Bowler of the Seventh Ward protesting a proposed utility tax. Stack said a utility tax would penalize large energy consumers and is subject to the "tremendous escalating cost of fuel."

Bowler said he still opposes a utility tax. "It is detrimental to industry and unfair to people who have to heat and cool their homes."

"In addition, we would have to levy a tax on the people just so we could pay the utility tax on the electricity we use, which is astronomical. Then we would have to have a tax on a tax on a tax—a whole new tax cycle."

The mayor said he was not surprised at the outcome of the constitutional challenge brought forth by Woodrome Olds Inc. and Jack Mathews Chevrolet Inc., who contended that the tax would cause "irreparable harm" to their businesses.

At the last city council meeting, the mayor had projected the financial status of the city through the end of present budget, outlining a need for

Text of the judge's ruling

Following is the text of the ruling Associate Judge Edward C. Ferguson issued Thursday which found the Granite City one percent supplemental sales tax, in its present form unconstitutional.

This case having been called for hearing, and the court having considered the arguments of counsel, the briefs of counsel, and being fully advised in the premises, does find:

1) That the plaintiffs in this case are sellers of tangible personal property and thus effected by the ordinance.

2) That the ordinance as originally enacted is an almost exact copy of the state "Sales Tax" Statute. It contains most of the same language as, and in fact is titled a Supplemental Retailers' Occupation Tax.

3) That the state Constitution enacted in 1970 bars the imposition of occupation taxes by a home rule unit, unless as authorized by the General Assembly. Although the Constitution grants many broad taxing powers to home rule units in that it does not impose many restrictions, it does clearly impose this restriction.

4) That the General Assembly has authorized a Retailers' Occupation Tax for the benefit of municipalities more commonly known as the sales tax but only in the amount of one percent. This tax was previously enacted by Granite City Ordinance No. 2634 and is enacting the new ordinance, Ordinance No. 2634 was not repealed.

5) That if Ordinance No. 2634 is an occupation tax, it results in an occupation tax of two percent as opposed to the one percent authority granted by the General Assembly.

6) The statute passed by the General Assembly in Chapter 24 of the Illinois Revised Statutes, which this ordinance closely copies, is called a Retailers' Occupation Tax by the General Assembly. It would appear that it was the Legislature's determination that this was an occupation tax and that it was the General Assembly's intention that this tax be one which is expected from the Constitutional prohibition.

7) That the city contends that their taxes not on a "given occupation" was addressed by the court in "Reit v. Bennett," 35 Ill. 164. In that case, the court held that sellers of tangible personal property is a given occupation. While that case was decided before the 1970 Constitution, it has been cited in many opinions since home rule $500,000 in loans against future tax income and predicting another money crunch next April.

The city trimmed employees from several departments last summer when $1.2 million had to be borrowed to keep the general fund afloat. "I don't see how they could cut again," Schuler said. Many aldermen, however, disagreed.

The mayor's only alternative suggestion is the utility tax with a ceiling on the amount of electricity and gas to be taxed. Before a percentage of utility tax can be figured, Schuler said a "bottom line of dollars needed" will have to be determined. The city could then "work upward from there."

As an example, the mayor pointed out a possible yearly revenue of $250,000 if a five percent telephone tax is imposed (Continued on Page 14)

County may use vans for transit

Under Madison County Mass Transit District sponsorship, a system of van passenger pools may be started in early 1982 to help reduce energy use and commuting costs.

The district's board on Thursday approved in principle an agreement, with Van-Pool Services, Inc., to establish and administer such a program in the geographic area served by the district.

A formal contract is to be signed, probably in December at the next meeting of the transit board.

The firm is a subsidiary of Chrysler Corporation and originated from a van pool that was set up to serve Chrysler workers in Michigan six years ago. It has since grown to provide consulting, marketing and administrative services in 15 areas across the nation, and recently contracted to work in St. Louis County.

Administrative and marketing costs in Madison County are projected at $40,000 a year, to be paid from transit district income derived from a quarter-cent sales tax. The bulk of that tax revenue goes to the Bi-State Development Agency for bus service.

Rider fares would cover the entire cost of leasing 15-passenger vans, including fuel and maintenance expenses. The vans are to be leased from Chrysler dealers in the district, according to Frank Sexton of Van Pool Services.

The firm will handle the grouping of potential riders by residence and destination.

One rider of each group is to be chosen as a driver; in return, he or she will get a free ride and use of the van on nights and weekends.

Sexton said the monthly charge to riders for a 30-mile round trip.

Gambling—big factor in probe

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

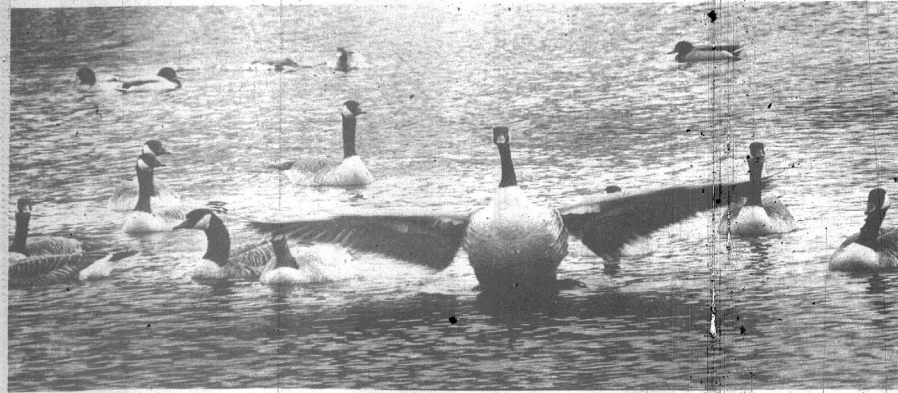

An agreement reached Friday with Bache Halsey Stuart Shields may provide most of the investors with quick recovery of their funds in the liquidated Six & Co. brokerage. But the massive investigation of the Thomas E. Brimberry, 37-year-old Granite Cityan, will continue.

Part of the federal probe is focusing on reported big-money transactions between figures in the brokerage and large gambling casinos. Cities mentioned repeatedly in affidavits, statements and allegations include Las Vegas and Reno in Nevada, Atlantic City, N. J., and Nassau, Bahamas, all of them centers of large-scale, high-stake, legal gambling activity.

ITEM: Several Quad-Cityans have said they were Brimberry's guests on trips to Las Vegas and Nassau, sometimes on private jet

Railroad request to be researched

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record
The Venice City Council instructed City Attorney Larry Hartman to research and see if the alley and part of the south end of Main Street in Venice can legally be sold to the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad (ICG).

Currently, the south end of Main Street is not used, except by the railroad for their piggyback truck operation, and ends at the north side of the Terminal Railroad Association bridge (highline).
First Ward Alderman Phillip Daniels reported that he had talked to residents near the area, and no one objects to the railroad enlarging its operation there. He noted several of the residents are interested in selling their homes to the railroad.

A question was raised regarding a new building the ICG had already erected which is blocking the alley. "I would like the records checked to see if the railroad had a building permit for that building. If they had, there is no problem, but they must follow the city ordinances like everyone else," Mayor Tyrone Echols said.

"I would also like a check made by the city engineers to find out exactly what property we own, what taxes are paid by the ICG and what revenue the bridge receives from the trucks? We need to know just how important that operation is to the city of Venice."

A presentation by Mayer Singerman, representing Dowden Communications Inc., on cable TV was given. Singerman is a former mayor of Park Forest, Ill. No action was taken on the cable TV proposal, other than a request for copies of the contract Dowden has just completed with the Washington Park - Fairmont City area.

Dowden is offering the city a 16-channel basic package for $8.50 a month per home, with five percent of the gross proceeds going to the city.

A request for a building permit for Silver L. Franklin, 1105 Calhoun St., to add a carport was tabled until the city ordinances can be checked to determine the permit fee for carports, if there is one.

A suggested ordinance raising the occupancy fees from $1 to $15 and the possibility of raising the inspection fee above the present $5 was given to the aldermen for their study and comments at the next council meeting.

A Venice resident alleged that the new Bissell Apartment owners were discriminating against ADC recipients. Mayor Echols explained that the city has no control over the new apartments, as they are a private development. The mayor noted that the apartments are governed by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development's (HUD) guidelines on qualifications for renting and HUD regulations.

The council was informed that there is only $2,500 in the fund for Christmas baskets and the baskets are expected to cost $5,000. The candy annually given to the for children also will cost at least $1,000.

Mayor Echols said, "We are going to check for any monies that we could possibly use, but the aldermen should be aware now of the situation of the Christmas baskets and candy."

When bids were opened for several items of used equipment belonging to the city, Benjamin Honorable and Charlie Mize each entered a $300 bid for a motorboat and trailer.

The two men decided to break the tie with a flip of the coin by Mayor Echols, who said jokingly "I've been involved in these coin tosses before."

Mize won the flip.

Rotary will aid Tree of Lights drive

Granite City Rotarians have made plans to "ring bells" at Salvation Army canters Friday evening, Dec. 4, to raise funds for the annual Tree of Lights holiday campaign.

The drive finances Christmas food, clothing and toys for needy Quad-City area families.

The club also will hold the Tree of Lights kickoff luncheon as part of its weekly meeting. Open to the public, the kickoff is set for noon tomorrow at the Salvation Army center on East 23rd Street. State Senator Sam Varalabene will speak.

Rotary President Robert Maxwell presided and Donald Watson introduced the week's speaker, R. Alton Gilbert, economist with the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis.

Gilbert traced recent ups and downs in the nation's economy and predicted continued monetary restraint as a means of curbing inflation.

Compassionate Friends offer sibling group

The Madison County Branch of the Compassionate Friends will hold its first meeting for bereaved brothers and sisters on Friday, Dec. 4, at 7:30 p.m.

The Compassionate Friends is a self-help organization offering friendship, and understanding to bereaved parents. The purpose is to aid parents in the positive resolution of the grief experienced upon the death of their child.

The group seeks to foster the physical and emotional health of bereaved parents and siblings.

The Madison County Branch of TCP has been meeting regularly for over four years. It recently accepted a presentation by three young women who have experienced the death of a brother or sister.

While siblings and other family members are always welcomed and encouraged to attend TCP meetings, the group decided to offer a separate group for siblings. This unit will meet informally in a nearby but separate location from the parents.

Teenagers and young adults are being asked to meet at the regular meeting place of TCP, the Wood River Township Meeting Hall, 6th and Airline Drive, Riverwood Heights, and the siblings then will be escorted to a nearby church for their meeting.

The group meets the first Friday of every month at 7:30 p.m. All bereaved parents are welcome at the parents' meeting.
For further information, interested people may call 377-8574.

Burglars flee from restaurant

Granite City police Thursday broke up a burglary in progress at Curt's Grill, 1623 Madison Ave., where a carton of food from the basement had been carried to an auto and other food had been left on and near a stairway.

With its headlights turned off, the car sped out of the restaurant parking lot and traveled along Madison Avenue, 16th Street and Niedringhaus Avenue despite an effort to shoot out one of its tires.

Blocked by a train at the Niedringhaus crossing, the car, possibly occupied by several persons, followed a railroad right-of-way to 20th Street and was lost sight of in the vicinity of West 23rd Street and Missouri Avenue.

The vehicle was found by police later Thursday at the end of West 23rd Street, and their investigation is continuing.

State lawyer says Briggs is in conflict of interest

Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs is in violation of state statutes in serving as a trustee of the Long Lake Fire Protection district while he is a supervisor. That is the opinion of the chief of the Illinois Attorney General's Office, expressed in a letter to Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber, the Press-Record has learned.

Briggs disagrees and told the Press-Record Thursday that he does not intend to resign from either office until his term on the fire protection district board expires next summer.

Shawn W. Denney, assistant attorney general and head of the opinions division, notified Weber in a letter dated Sept. 24 that statutes provide "specifically that no township official is eligible for appointment to the board of trustees of a fire protection district if the district lies solely within a single township and the trustees of the district are appointed."

He said that because of the clarity of the wording of the statute, "I do not believe that an official opinion of the attorney general will be necessary."

"Incompatibility arises where the written law prohibits the occupant of one office from holding another or where the duties of the two offices are such that a holder of one cannot, in every instance, fully and faithfully discharge the duties of the other."

"A conflict could arise between the duties of the offices in question because of the provisions of Section 20 of 'An Act to revise the law in relation to township organization' (Ill. Revised Statutes, 1979, chapter 139, paragraph 126.10), which authorizes the board of town trustees to enter into cooperative agreements or contracts with other governmental entities to provide fire protection services."

"A township supervisor, who is a member of the town board of trustees, could be negotiating a contract with a fire district and, therefore, he would not be in a position to fully and faithfully, in every instance, serve both entities," the letter notes.

Briggs said he received a copy of the letter Thursday, but does not consider it a mandate for him to resign one of the two positions. "It is not an official attorney general's opinion and I guess it just got mixed in with Mr. Weber's correspondence," Briggs said of the month's delay between the date of the letter and the date he received a copy of it.

Briggs said he has every intention of serving out his full term on the fire protection district board, which expires in May or June. "I can't reappoint myself. That is very clear, but I was appointed (to the fire board) before I was elected supervisor. There is some business I want to get done for the fire district, that I have to get done, before my term ends and I intend to do it," Briggs concluded.

Sharing of blood supplies proposed

Two years of preliminary work are about to culminate in a proposal that calls for a single, shared system to coordinate the planning and distribution of blood supplies nationwide.

The resource sharing plan has been accepted by three of the four principal agencies in the nation's blood service system and is awaiting a decision by the American Blood Commission board of directors. The board meets Dec. 16.

The plan would provide a national network for transferring blood to help reduce seasonal blood shortages and outdated blood.

Those who have already approved the proposal are the Council of Community Blood Centers, the American Red Cross and the American Association of Blood Banks. The plan, if approved in December, would take effect next spring.

No SIUE activity in campaign

President Earl Lazerson of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville last week released a statement on allegations made by Michael Manning of Granite City concerning Peter Simpson, an employee of SIUE.

Following is the text of Pres. Lazerson's statement: "On Nov. 3, I received a letter dated Oct. 30 from Michael Manning in which certain allegations were made concerning Peter L. Simpson, an employee of the university."

"Because of the seriousness of Manning's charges, charges which could affect the continued employment of a university employee, I have responded to him confidentially concerning his charges."

"So that the public record on this matter will be clear and complete, following is a summary of the conclusions contained in my response to Manning."

"Peter Simpson agreed to grant an interview to a journalism student of the university. During the interview, the subject of which was the upcoming reelection campaign of Senator

Sam Vadalabene, Simpson responded to questions related to the subject.

"Simpson has a professional relationship with Sen. Vadalabene which related to Simpson's service as a legislative assistant to the senator."

"This professional relationship is conducted under an approved application for outside employment pursuant to official university and Board of Trustees policy and applicable state statutes."

"Any other relationship between Simpson and the senator is conducted within the purview of Simpson's constitutional rights."

"Neither of these relationships is conducted through or on behalf of the university, nor are university resources committed or utilized to support activities related to either of these relationships."

"I have no intention that any unit of the university become involved in partisan political campaigning. I have and will continue to take whatever steps are necessary to ensure this, and to ensure that the resources of the institution are not utilized to support such activities."

Manning told the Press-Record, "I'm glad they investigated, and I feel that the matter is closed."

GRADUAL BACK PAIN

Not all back trouble starts with a severe strain such as lifting a far-too-heavy load. A slip or a bad fall need not always be at fault, either. Spinal vertebrae can move out of normal alignment, suddenly or gradually, with no obvious cause other than normal bending and twisting of the spine.

Perhaps this is the reason why some people suffer the agony of back pain without seeking the relief that chiropractic offers. They do not suspect vertebra misalignment because there was no obvious event to cause it.

If you suffer from back trouble, arrange for a chiropractic examination without delay. Phone our office today. There is no charge for consultation.

Republicans hear Fahner, Totten and Dailey tonight

Three state candidates will speak at the 1981 Madison County Republican convention to be held tonight from 7:30 to 9:30 at the Edwardsville High School cafeteria, St. Louis Road, Edwardsville.

Admission is free and all committees, election judges, Republican contributors and workers are being urged to attend.

Dr. Edward Ragdale, county chairman, said, "Anyone interested in meeting our candidates is welcome. Governor James Thompson will be represented by a member of his staff."

State's Attorney Don Weber and State Representatives Everett Steele, Junie Bartulis and Frank Watson are on the program.

"We have been meeting with several outstanding prospective county candidates and are hopeful some will make their announcement for office at the convention. Nominating petitions are welcome."

"The Republican party will provide the services of a notary for any petitions which are completed. Republican Women's clubs are helping to provide refreshments."

"The county convention will be an excellent place to meet Illinois Attorney General Tyrone Fahner. With a legal career that includes experience as a federal prosecutor, chief of Illinois state law enforcement, law professor and private attorney, he has set a course toward improving competence and integrity in state government."

"Ty has expanded the attorney general's efforts in providing trial assistance to help county prosecutors fight crime, and has worked to alert the public to Illinois' program to financially aid the victims of violent crime."

"State Senator Don Totten is a candidate for lieutenant governor and is known to many in Madison County as the father of tax limitation in this state and as Ronald Reagan's campaign manager during the last two presidential elections. Don was a featured speaker several years ago at our Lincoln Day dinner."

"John P. Dailey, candidate for state treasurer at age 39, is a successful business leader who also has a wealth of experience in state government."

"He is president of Continental Regency Hotel, Peoria; an attorney-at-law; and vice chairman and director of the Community Bank of Greater Peoria."

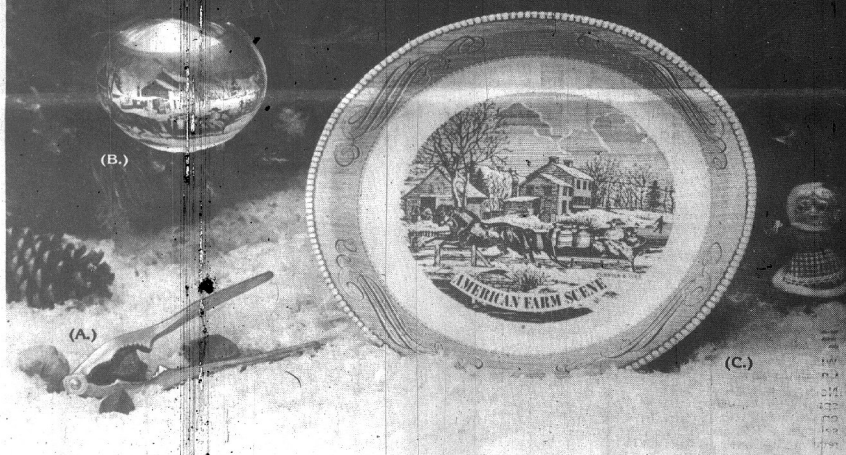

"He is an active Republican who served as co-chairman of the 1980 election eve rally in Peoria attended by President Reagan, Vice-President Bush and former President Ford."

"Dailey will bring sound business practices and a conservative Republican philosophy to the state treasurer's office."

NLRB finds GC Journal guilty of unfair labor practices, orders union recognition

The National Labor Relations Board has found the Granite City Journal guilty of engaging in unfair labor practices and has ordered the Journal to immediately recognize the St. Louis Newspaper Guild Local 47 as the bargaining agent for Journal employees and to cease and desist from unlawful labor practices.

A decision, which is subject to appeal to a five-member NLRB panel in Washington, D.C., was issued by Administrative Law Judge Arline Pach, who has been studying the record since a hearing Sept. 21 on allegations that the Journal has engaged in unfair labor practices.

The Guild had filed complaints with the NLRB alleging 19 specific counts of alleged unfair labor practices, including making coercive statements to employees, threatening employees with discharge for engaging in union activities and actually discharging some union supporters, giving employees the impression that their union activities were under surveillance, harassing employees in an attempt to compel them to report on the union activities of fellow workers and otherwise restraining the employees in the exercise of their rights.

The administrative law judge found most of the allegations valid and concluded, "respondent committed numerous unfair labor practices as found herein, I also shall recommend that the respondent cease and desist from in any manner interfering with, restraining and coercing employees in the exercise of their rights guaranteed by Section 7 of the (National Labor Relations) Act and bargain upon request with the employees' designated collective-bargaining representative, St. Louis Newspaper Guild, Local 47, TWU, AFL-CIO-CLC."

The administrative law judge further suggested that such union recognition be made retroactive to May 7, 1980, and ordered the Journal to reinstate former advertising salesman Tina Hamilton with full back pay to May 26, 1980, when she was terminated.

The order found that on May 7, 1980, the union had validly signed union cards from 14 of the 18 employees, giving the union a majority.

However, on June 26, 1980, when a union-recognition election was held, there were six votes for the union, seven against and five ballots cast by persons deemed ineligible to vote by the regional director, according to the order.

The administrative law judge concluded that interference by the Journal and its then president, publisher, Rod Sanders, invalidated the results of that election.

"Damage has been done. Respondent's conduct did undermine the union's majority status and negated the possibility that a free and fair election could be held under the requisite laboratory conditions. There is no other explanation for the abrupt change of mind of those employees who supported the union at the end of April and then voted against the union less than two months later," the law judge concluded.

She also ruled that the subsequent firing of Sanders failed to absolve the Journal of responsibility for his actions. "Surely, the Donnelly family, owners of the newspaper chain of which the Granite City Journal is a member, was aware that a union election was pending. It is inconceivable that they were not advised at least as to when and why three supervisors were summarily terminated.

"In light of the abundant evidence, if respondent wished to disassociate itself from his actions, it could have taken such steps as issuing reassurances to its employees publicly condemning his practices or offering reinstatement to the employees wrongly discharged," the law judge found.

She also ruled that the substantial turnover of employees should not affect the union recognition. "The record is unclear as to the precise number of employees originally in the bargaining unit who subsequently were transferred, promoted, discharged or quit. However, it appears that a core of employees who were part of the union's initial majority remain in respondent's employ and have not sought to withdraw their membership authorization cards."

"Even assuming there was evidence of a significant turnover, board precedent dictates that I give it little or no weight. To take such a factor into account would merely afford 'an added inducement to the employer to indulge in unfair labor practices in order to defeat the union in an election. He will have as an ally, in addition to the attrition of union support inevitably springing from delay in accomplishing results, the fact that turnover itself will help him, so that the longer he can hold out the better his chances of victory will be," the law judge concluded.

She ordered that a notice to employees be posted at the Journal office pledging that the management will not threaten employees for engaging in union activities, will not coercively interrogate employees as to their union sympathies or activities, will not give employees the impression that their union activities are under surveillance, will not suggest that the employees present grievances to the management for resolution and will not, in any manner, harass employees or interfere with their right to engage in collective activities.

The Journal was given until Dec. 11 to appeal the decision of the administrative law judge.

Arrest based on auto sales loans

Larry Gene Crismon, 33, Maryland Heights, Mo., was named last week on five state counts of disposition of secured collateral. It was alleged he sold used cars in Granite City without paying the Alton Banking & Trust Co. floor plan loans on some of the autos.

He also faces a county charge of deceptive practice. He is free on bonds totaling $10,000 after appearing before Associate Judge Edward Ferguson.

An investigator with the Division of Criminal Investigation alleged that 153 of 166 cars financed by the bank were sold without payments to the bank on the loans, an amount he estimated as totaling $750,000.

Five auto sales on which the state charges are based are said to have occurred between Sept. 25, 1980, and June 15, 1981. Those vehicles are said to have been used as collateral for new trust agreements even though the cars already had been sold.

It is asserted that 13 cars were recovered by the bank but that most are of little value.

Way of Lights opens Friday

The National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows will open its 12th annual Way of Lights beginning Friday, Nov. 27, continuing through Sunday, Jan. 10.

More than 100,000 lights will illuminate the Shrine from 5 to 10 p.m. nightly. In observance of International Year of the Disabled, this year's Way of Lights is being dedicated to the handicapped.

Mary Lou Catalano of Buffalo, N.Y., has been commissioned by the Shrine to produce an oil painting of the Shrine's outdoor amphitheatre, which will be featured on a free calendar. She is a member of the Shrine's Victim Missionaries, a spiritual movement for the physically handicapped and chronically ill. Confined to a wheelchair since birth, Mary Lou is a full-time newspaper advertising and color comic artist. "I'm quite honored to be part of this year's Way of Lights celebration, honoring 1981 as the International Year of the Disabled Person. My painting is my way of expressing how I feel about the serenity and peace that I receive when I visit this most beautiful shrine to Our Lady of the Snows."

Korte on panel for block grants

Two groups were formed Tuesday to advise on the implementation of federal block grants to Illinois.

"We are entering a new era of federal-state relations," Governor James R. Thompson said, "and I want our state to become a model for other states to follow."

"In accepting new state responsibilities, I want to be sure there is maximum public involvement in the decision-making process."

"In this first year, with the reduced funding levels and lagging state revenues, it is important that local government officials and public members help us determine how to spend our resources."

The Local Government Advisory Committee, comprised of mayors from large and small cities, county officials, and public members, will advise the governor on the implementation of block grants that impact local government.

Sued by widow of murder victim

Mrs. Vivian Vaughn of Edwardsville filed a $1,200,000 suit last week in the Madison County Circuit Court against Granite City Steel, noting that her husband was shot to death on a plant parking lot May 6.

George W. Vaughn, 53, was shot twice at close range with a .38-caliber pistol and was found lying next to his auto by employees of the plant. His wallet and other valuables were still on him, ruling out robbery as the motive.

Leads are still being followed in the investigation. Mr. Vaughn was not known to have had any enemies.

The suit questions the safety and lighting of parking facilities and the degree of security provided to prevent the gun attack by an unknown person.

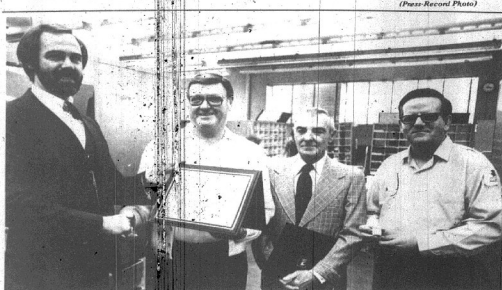

Many of the 100 employees in the lot at the time said they heard the shots but none saw the assailant, who fled.

Mr. Vaughn had worked at Granite City Steel for 25 years and was reporting for the midnight shift when bullets were fired into his head and abdomen. A 1966 Buick auto possibly linked to the case has not been found.

Alleges battery

Shirley J. Dotson, 23, of 231 E. 25th St., was charged with battery at 6:40 p.m. Sunday in a complaint signed by her sister, Vicki Conner, 213 Benton St., who alleged Mrs. Dotson struck her body with her fists and a wooden table leg, pulled her hair, threw a window fan at her and knocked her to the floor before a brother stopped the altercation.

At police headquarters, Mrs. Dotson allegedly made threatening statements against Mrs. Conner and their mother, according to officers. She was released at 7:50 p.m. Sunday on payment of $102 cash bond.

BAC keeping costs within its revenue level

Belleville Area College President Bruce Wisore presented data to the BAC board last week on the state's financial outlook.

"Everyone has been telling us things are going to be light in the future," Dr. Wisore said. "I'm afraid these figures support that."

His figures showed income tax revenue increases in the 1980-81 fiscal year of 4.5 percent, well below inflation for the same period. Sales tax revenue decreased during the year, he said.

Income and sales taxes are major funding sources for the state. These trends, combined with rising unemployment, paint a less than optimistic picture, Dr. Wisore said; on a brighter note, however, BAC has managed to "keep costs in line."

The college's unit cost for fiscal 1981 was $2.10 less than during the previous year. Unit cost is the amount spent per credit hour of instruction.

Police halt driver after 2 cars are hit

A New Baden woman, 35, was freed Friday morning by Granite City police after being held for questioning. During rain at 11:10 p.m. Thursday, her auto traveled in the wrong direction along Adams, striking the parked car of Terry Malench, 2336 Adams St., near that address and the parked auto of Harold L. Ritchie, 3348 Colgate Place, in the 2600 block of Adams.

Officers had halted her at 27th and Benton streets after noticing front end damage on her vehicle, and they then learned of the two collisions.

assuming 21 workdays in the month, would be about $41.73. Major corporations and SIUE are likely to be included in the pools.

Matthew Melucci, executive director of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, attended Thursday's meeting and commented that the projected cost compares well with alternatives.

Madison County residents commuting to downtown St. Louis would be fortunate if they are paying less than that amount for parking their autos, not to mention the wear and tear on the cars, insurance charges and fuel costs, he added.

Transit Board Chairman William Haine said, "Some people in the district now get little or no benefit from buses. This is a chance for thousands to cut their commuting costs. It's an excellent opportunity for many of those to benefit even though they never get on a bus."

Melucci told the board it will need to pay more for the services of Susan considering all portions of the ordinance, including the sections on definition, collection, penalty, and imposition, finds that it is a tax upon an occupation, albeit a broad occupation. The court feels that the ordinance and its provisions fall within the prohibition contained within the Constitution.

10) That all such matter within the body of that ordinance deals with the occupation tax and therefore the entire ordinance must be ruled invalid because it is related to the same topic.

11) That the court is aware of an amendment passed by the city council which changes some language in the original ordinance. However, the court has found in cases it has researched on this issue that an invalid ordinance cannot be cured by an adoption of an amendment correcting any defect. (City of Kewanee v. Celander, 324 Ill. 476.)

It has also been held that the subsequent authorization by the Legislature to have such a tax would not validate a previously invalid tax.

Schold, district manager "on loan" from Gateway, during the coming year. The board has been paying about 20 percent of her salary, or about $2,500 this year.

Details of the proposed van pool agreement are to be worked out by the firm in talks with Mrs. Schold and the county transit district's attorney, Michael Thompson, subject to ratification by the three-member board that includes Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler.

Unless the entire ordinance is re-enacted, the ordinance remains void. The court is assuming for argument that the amendment did correct any defect for purposes of this paragraph; however, the court is not ruling on determining as a matter of law or fact whether such re-enacted ordinance would be constitutional.

12) That the court is aware of the severe financial plight of the city of Granite City. Many tax avenues may be open to the city, as evidenced by the great creativity of the city of Chicago in imposing various taxes. However, this tax is clearly proscribed.

Therefore it is hereby the Order of this court that Ordinance No. 3817 enacted by the city of Granite City on Sept. 22, 1981, be and the same is hereby declared unconstitutional in violation of Article 7, Section 6(c) of the 1970 Illinois Constitution. The ordinance is declared void and of no force and effect in law. Entered this 19th day of November, 1981. Edward C. Ferguson, associate judge.

Treasure House III coming to Madison

Treasure House III, a non-profit thrift shop operated by the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission (EOC), will be opening sometime in December in Madison.

Treasure House III will serve the Quad-City area from 1316 Madison Ave. This is the building formerly occupied by the Bastille Tavern and has been used several times as a haunted castle at Halloween.

Ella Miller of Venice and Velma Shambro of Granite City will be working in the Madison Treasure House. They have been hired by the Senior Community Service Employment Program with offices in Edwardsville.

Other Treasure Houses are operated in Glen Carbon and Cottage Hills.

The non-profit resale shops are operated to benefit of less fortunate, incapacitated and elderly residents of the area.

Items of clothing, food, dishes, books and just about anything useful are sold at very low prices to help persons with limited incomes.

Donations of money or items to the Treasure House are not only welcome, but are tax-deductible, according to Mrs. Jeanne Wall, program director for the Treasure Houses in the county.

Persons are asked to donate items that do not sell at a garage sale, but they need to be clean and in good condition.

"We simply do not have the money or the staff to repair and clean items and we can use almost any type of donation," Mrs. Wall said.

Persons with items to donate may bring them to the Treasure House or telephone 876-4548 weekdays between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., while they are preparing to open.

When officially open, the hours will be 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays.

Tree seedling order blanks

Order blanks to obtain tree seedlings from the Illinois Forestry Department are available at the Madison County Extension office, 909 Hillsboro, Edwardsville, or at the Soil Conservation Service office.

There are two state nurseries in Illinois, the Union Nursery at Jonesboro and the Mason Nursery at Topeka. Both nurseries produce tree seedlings for sale in the state.

Hardwood and pine seedlings are available. Some of the pines available include Scotch pine, white pine, Austrian pine and red pine. Several wildlife packets also are available.

Trees from the State Nursery cannot be resold in any way with the roots attached, and cannot be used for landscaping purposes. They can be used for windbreaks, reforestation, wildlife cover, erosion control or Christmas trees.

Cardinals dump 'Dolts' for second straight win

BALTIMORE — Hold onto your hats, folks — the St. Louis football Cardinals have won two games in a row!

The Big Red — dubbed the "Big Red" no longer than two weeks ago — dumped the hapless Baltimore Colts here Sunday 35-24 to run their record to 5-7. The victory by St. Louis actually gives the Cardinals an outside shot at making the NFL post-season playoffs as a wild-card entry — however remote.

"We had control of the game all day long," said St. Louis wide receiver Pat Tilley. He had his best game as a professional, snaring five passes for a total of 138 yards. "There was never a doubt in our minds today. Losing never entered our thinking."

It was also a record-setting day for Cardinals running back Otis Anderson. He ran the ball 29 times for 130 yards. The total gives him 1,049 yards for the season — the third straight season the All-Pro ball totter had covered 1,000 yards or more in a season.

The Cardinals running game was awesome. They ripped through the Colts' defense for a total of 241 yards. Last week in their 24-0 victory over the Buffalo Bills, the Cardinals ran for 258 yards.

And there was rookie quarterback Neil Lomax, making his second straight start since regular signal-caller Jim Hart was benched. Lomax was something short of spectacular, but still managed to complete 12 of 21 for 219 yards. Baltimore's Bert Jones was 23 of 45 for 230 yards.

The loss was Baltimore's eleventh in a row. The disgruntled fans in Baltimore have re-named the team the "Dolts." But they did not lay down and play dead for the Cardinals. In fact, they managed to climb to within four points of the Big Red late in the game. But that's when Lomax and Company went to work.

With St. Louis leading 28-24, Lomax faked a handoff and rolled out right on a bootleg. He then spotted tight end

Greg LaFleur streaking across the field near the right sideline. Lomax hit LaFleur with a perfect pass good for a 27-yard pickup down to the Baltimore 17-yard line. LaFleur almost maintained his balance enough to score a touchdown on the play.

But it wasn't really necessary. Two plays later, Anderson scored the game-clinching TD with an 11-yard jaunt off left tackle.

With 5:21 remaining in the game, though, it appeared as if the Colts might indeed be able to shake out of their losing streak. After Randy Burke partially blocked a Carl Birdsong punt, the Colts drove the field 56 yards in eight plays. Jones tossed an eight-yard pass to Ray Butler in the end zone for the touchdown.

St. Louis jumped out to an early lead in the first quarter. Anderson got the Big Red on the scoreboard first in the game on a four-yard run. The big play in the opening drive was a 75-yard pass play from Lomax to Tilley, who ran one of bounds at the Baltimore eight-yard line.

But the Colts countered that score with a touchdown of their own. Curtis Dickey broke no fewer than five St. Louis tackles enroute to a 36-yard touchdown run in the first quarter.

Then the St. Louis defense got into the act. Rookie linebacker Dave Ahrens intercepted a Jones pass and ran (scampered - scooted - crawled?) into the end zone from 14 yards out. "Was it just 14 yards?" he laughed. "Geez, it seemed like 80."

The third St. Louis touchdown of the afternoon came on a 10-yard run by Lomax (yes, that's right folks. A RUNNING touchdown by a St. Louis quarterback).

In the third quarter, St. Louis running back Wayne Morris scampered in from three yards out to make it 28-10.

A sparse crowd of only 24,748 saw the Colts lose their eleventh game in 12 starts this season. The team hasn't notched a victory since the opening game of the season.

Eastern edges Bills 1-0 to win regional

By TERESA GULL

of the Press-Record

CHARLESTON — Just like the state championship days of Granite City South in 1977, '78 and '79, Randy DeRousse and Dave Fernandez were both playing soccer on the same field Sunday afternoon.

This time, however, the circumstances had changed. Instead of both of them wearing South's red and white uniforms, DeRousse was dressed in royal blue shorts and a white shirt of Eastern Illinois University. Fernandez was the mirrored opposite, clad in white shorts and a royal blue shirt of St. Louis University.

During the game, they were on opposite sides of the field. Fernandez in his striker position and DeRousse in his defensive back position.

"It was after the game, however, when the most noticeable difference appeared. DeRousse walked off of the field as a winner. Fernandez hobbled off as a loser."

EIU's 1-0 victory over SLU in the NCAA Midwest Regional Championship was far from a pretty game. It was rough. It was physical. Fernandez can attest to that.

With 4:42 remaining in the game, Fernandez and an EIU player were going after a ball. The EIU player swung his foot at the ball but hit Fernandez's right knee instead. He collapsed in pain in front of his own bench.

After the game, Fernandez was hobbling around on crutches, his throbbing knee packed in ice. He believed he strained the ligaments, but will have to wait until the swelling goes down and he gets it x-rayed to determine the extent of the injury.

Fernandez sustained the most serious injury of the game, but both teams were plagued by minor bumps, bruises and cuts throughout the game. EIU was whistled for 44 fouls while SLU was called for 32.

"There was a lot of physical play," Schellus Hyndman, EIU coach said. "We were really concerned with the injuries. That's why we asked the referee to call the game tighter the second half. There was a lot of retaliation going on out there."

The only score in the game came with 16:28 remaining in the first half. Vincente DiBella took a pass from Gordie Weidie and booted a line drive shot into the left corner of the goal.

It wasn't that SLU didn't have its chances to score. They had 12 shots on goal to EIU's five, but were just unable to make the crucial connections.

Harry Keough, SLU's head coach, blamed the lackadaisical play of his team for the loss.

"If you don't score a goal in 90 minutes, you don't deserve to beat anybody," Keough said.

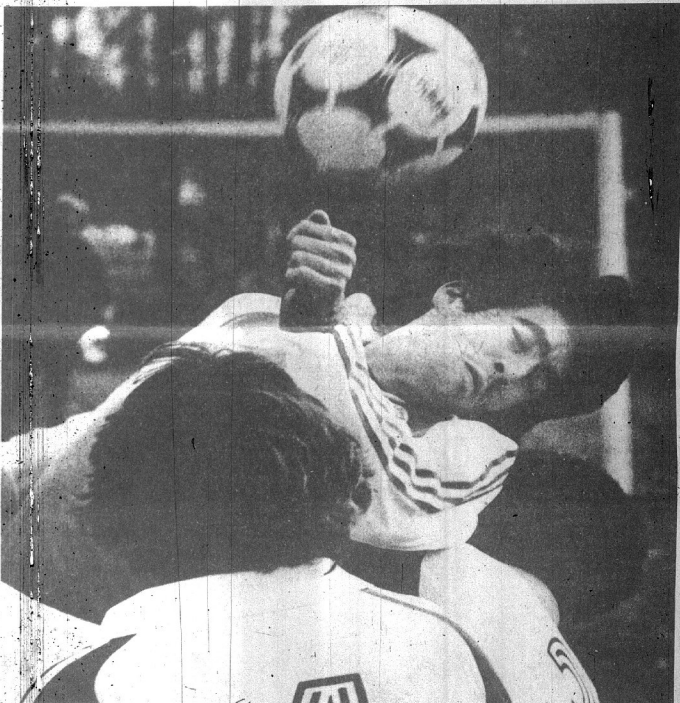

The simple truth is that you have to come to play soccer from the start of the game," he continued. "We didn't decide to start playing soccer until the second half. By that time they had a goal to hang onto and their morale was too high."

SLU did dominate play the second half. For the majority of the time, they controlled the ball on EIU's side of the field. Aggressive marking by EIU's defensive backs and some diving saves by keeper Eric Hartman, however, prevented SLU from scoring.

DeRousse was a crucial mainstay in the backfield for EIU. He said after they scored, their game plan was to lay back, let SLU bring the ball to them and hope the defense would hold.

"They were more scared of us than we were scared of them," DeRousse said.

Hyndman tabbed this the biggest win in the history of EIU soccer. They will now meet the winners of the Western Regional Championship on Sunday, Nov. 29 at 1 p.m. at EIU to determine who will go to Stanford for the NCAA finals.

JOE FILLA of St. Louis University goes between two Eastern Illinois University defenders to head the ball Sunday afternoon during his team's 1-0 loss to the Panthers in Charleston. Filla, which was seeded third in the three-game NCAA Midwest Regional, will now advance to further post-season play. Eastern beat SIU-Edwardsville 2-1 in overtime last week in the semifinals. The Eastern player in the foreground is Randy DeRousse, a sophomore from Granite City South.

Area teams ousted from state grid tourney

Special to the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Both Press-Record area still alive were knocked out of the running for state prep football championships Saturday afternoon. AT Geneseo, the host Leafs managed to edge the previously undefeated Roxana Shells 10-0 in Class AA semifinal action. At Biggsville, the host Biggsville Union Yankees thrashed Quad County champion Duplo 38-0 in Class 2A semifinal play.

Only one Southern Illinois team will play next weekend when the elite get together for the six state title games in Bloomington and Evanston. Mt. Carmel, the champion of the North Egyp-

Conference, remained undefeated with a 30-0 victory over Pittsfield. The Golden Aces (12-0) will play Bishop McNamara (11-1) Saturday morning at 11 for the state Class 3A championship at Hancock Stadium on the campus of Illinois State University in Normal.

GENESEO-ROXANA

GENESEO — A one-yard touchdown run by Geneseo's Randy Clary with just over a minute remaining in the first half turned out to be the only score that the Leafs would need to oust Roxana, previously undefeated champion of the Mississippi Valley Conference. Three insurance points came off the foot of Paul Ryan, who booted a 23-yard field goal with 8:19 remaining in the game.

"We knew we were in trouble after the first quarter," said Roxana head coach Charles Raich. "There's no doubt they (the Leafs) were the better team today. We played them about as well we could. They just out-muscled our defensive line something fierce."

Geneseo ran the ball for a total of 265 yards on 55 carries. Roxana managed only 89 yards on 31 attempts. In the passing department, Roxana was one-of-nine for 17 yards. Geneseo was two-of-four for 50 yards.

Geneseo could have made it worse in the first half. But several penalties at critical moments kept the Shells' hopes alive — for the time being. In fact, it took the Leafs just 11 plays after the opening kickoff to take the ball down to the Roxana seven-yard line. But a penalty for an illegal block on a fourth down situation gave possession of the ball back to the Shells.

On their next possession, the Leafs managed to get the ball all the way down the field to the Roxana 19-yard line. But another penalty — this time on a third-down play — nullified the drive. The Leafs went for the first down on the ensuing fourth down play and failed. The Shells had dodged the bullet again.

After the go-ahead touchdown by the Leafs, the Shells knew they were in trouble. But it was the game-clinching field goal drive that wrapped things up for Geneseo, which is the only team in the state to qualify for the State Playoffs all eight years of the post-season tourney. The Leafs literally jammed the ball down the Shells' throats on the drive, picking up two yards here, three yards, here, four yards there. On 16 running plays, no gain was longer than five yards.

DUPO-BIGGSVILLE The Dupo Tigers finally ran out of steam here Saturday. The championships of the Quad County Conference were dumped by an impressive Biggsville Union squad 38-0 in the semifinals of the state Class 2A prep football series.

Biggsville's Yankees scored on their first possession of the game — and set the tone for the rest of the afternoon.

Steamers come back to win home-opener

DON EBERT (in white) gets ready to make his move on Kansas City defender Gino Schiraldi (2) in Friday night's 7-4 St. Louis Steamers victory over the Comets at the Checkerdome. Ebert, a second-year player from SIU-Edwardsville, scored three goals in the game. The Steamers ran their record to 2-0, while Kansas City dropped to 0-2.

ST. LOUIS — Pre-game hoopla hasn't won a game yet in any sport. The St. Louis Steamers found that out first-hand here Friday night in their 7-4 come-from-behind victory over the Kansas City Comets at the Checkerdome.

The Steamers, who ran their record to 2-0 with the victory, are well-known for their player introductions, complete with spotlights, rolling fog, disco music and screaming P.A. announcing. But Friday night, there was even more. A banner, declaring the team's Central Division championship last season, was unfurled from the ceiling. The standing-room-only crowd of 18,528 heard "I am" President Stan Musial was introduced. The crowd roared. Major Indoor Soccer League Commissioner Earl Foreman was introduced. He awarded the Central Division trophy to the Steamers.

The crowd roared. Then, 25 seconds into the game, before the fans had a chance to settle into their seats, Kansas City's Ben Popoola nudged a slow-roller past Steamer goalie Slobodan to give his team a 1-0 lead.

The crowd was silent. Slobodan.

Then, at the 1:25 mark, Popoola did it again. He scored off an assist from teammate Val DeSouza and the Comets had a 2-0 lead. The crowd was silent.

Popoola was just obtained by the Comets last week. "He's a strong player," said Comets head coach Luis Dabo. "I needed some strength on offense and I knew he could give it to me."

Dabo speaks from experience. He coached Popoola last year when both were drawing their paychecks from now-defunct Chicago Horizons.

But the Steamers, who have historically played their best when they're behind, didn't start playing till we're behind. That was sure true tonight.

First-year Steamers head coach Al Trost, who had just finished coaching his first game before the hometown fans, was elated. "I was confident we could get back into the game," he said. "It was just a matter of not hitting the panic button. Two goals in this league isn't that hard to overcome."

As well as the Comets found out, Tony Glavin got the capacity crowd (the fifth largest in MISL history) back on its feet with a goal at the 3:47 mark, assisted by Tony Bellingier.

The Steamers pulled even with and then ahead of the Comets in the second quarter, and both goals were scored by last year's Rookie-of-the-Year, Don Ebert, who finished the game with a three-goal hat trick.

Ebert's first goal came at the 2:32 mark. A shot by Bellingier rebounded off the boards and Ebert was there to pound it home. The go-ahead was of much the same variety. Ebert, brought the ball down the floor and passed off to Bick, whose shot rebounded off the boards to the left of Kansas City goalie Enzo Dipele.

And, just as he did on his first goal, Ebert pounded the rebound home. As much as St. Louis had dominated statistically and territorially in the first half, all it took was a brief rush by Kansas City in the third quarter to tie the game.

Popoola scored his third of the night at the 1:12 mark when he booted in the ball after it squirted out of a jumble of players in front of Iljevski.

That was Kansas City's last gasp, however.

The Steamers countered with three straight goals. Ty Keough got the first of the three. Bellingier nudged the ball up to Keough, who, streaking down the right side of the floor totally unmarked, let go with a booming shot that found the upper left corner of the goal at the 4:09 mark.

Then Ebert and former SIU-E teammate Jeff Cacciatore got together to give St. Louis a two-goal lead. Ebert passed through the goal mouth to Cacciatore, who knocked home the goal at the 6:33 mark.

The three-goal lead came when Glavin got a power-play goal at 7:38. Comets Pedro Gano was off the floor for tripping.

At 10:45, Kansas City got back to within two goals when Steve Schmidigall knocked in his own rebound.

But the Steamers established the eventual winning margin when Ebert scored his third of the night. He scored on yet another rebound (this one by Bick) at 12:09. The jubilant fans littered the floor with hats.

"It's great to get the home opener under our belts," said Trost. "It was a slow start, but once we got moving, things started going our way."

STEAMER NOTES—The Steamers' next game will be this Wednesday when they take on the Phoenix Inferno at 7:30 p.m. St. Louis takes to the road Friday at Wichita... Kansas City is in its first year in the MISL. Last season, the franchise was located in San Francisco and was known as the Fog. The Comets are now based

Warrior cagers face uphill climb this season

By TERESA GULL
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — A lack of size and a lack of speed is a combination that would make any basketball coach cringe. Don Deterding, head basketball coach at Granite City South, faces those two problems this season, but he's confident his team can overcome its physical deficits with its mental prowess.

It's not uncommon for South to play a 6'3 center. A problem they had last year was their inability to contain a big man inside.

That is a big concern for Deterding again this year, as most of their opponents have a tall post man. He is planning to put a lot of pressure on the perimeter people and double team and collapse on the post man to make it difficult to pass the ball inside.

"The kids have started playing good defense in practice," Deterding said. "I've always prided myself in having good defense."

Deterding is counting on the team's maturity to compensate for its lack of size. He returns seven seniors and five let-terms.

Two of those seniors started last year. Joe Schmiede, a 6'1 guard, forward who had a 11 point per game average. They will share the co-captain duties.

Other returning let-terms are Jim Petty, a 6'2 senior guard, Tom Miller, 6'2 senior forward and Pat Linhart, a 6'3 junior forward. Larry Holder, a 6'3 center, Jim Wickman, a 6'2 center, forward and Dan Edwards, a 5'11 guard are the other seniors on the squad.

A missed component on the this year's team will be Jim Choi, last year's starting point guard. Choi's family moved to Kentucky over the summer.

Deterding said this year's team has pretty good shooting skills and excellent passing skills. Since he doesn't have one dominating player, he doesn't plan on keying his offense around one player but utilizing all five men on the court equally.

"We've got to do things as a team," Deterding said. "We've got to play offense as a team, we've got to play defense as a team and so far we've been doing that."

Deterding promises more of a quick, running game from South this year to utilize his team's passing skills. He believes the team can be effective with this type of play even though they only have average quickness for their size.

Playing what he describes as a competitive schedule, Deterding expects Edwardsville to repeat as the Gateway East Conference champions. Belleville Althoff and Kentucky over the summer.

South opens up its season Nov. 28 at Bethalto. Its first home game is Dec. 4 against Belleville Althoff. Deterding believes his team will be ready.

"We have looked very sharp. The kids' attitudes have been super," Deterding said. "We've made great progress in practice. We're farther along this year than we were last year."

Cougars drop exhibition game to Yugoslavian National team

By TERESA GULL
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — The SIUE men's basketball team received a rude welcoming to its 82 season with a 74-60 loss to the Yugoslavian Belgrade Red Star Olympic Team Thursday night.

The first win in five starts for Yugoslavia in its 11 game, 14 day tour of the United States. They had previously lost to North Carolina State, James Madison, Drake and Southern Methodist.

SIUE's new head coach Tom Pugliese, SIUE looked like a team still searching for its identity. Disorganization, inconsistency and lack of leadership plagued the Cougars throughout the night.

"I'm tremendously disappointed," Pugliese said. "As hard as we practiced, it sure didn't show tonight."

The most noticeable problem for SIUE was their lack of leadership. There was no player out on the floor directing traffic, giving guidance and controlling the flow of the game.

Pugliese acknowledged that Al McCarron, the player he had appointed to do the job, had a bad game. He's still confident, however, McCarron is the person who can most effectively lead the team.

McCarron blamed his lack of experience of being a leader to his ineffectiveness. "I played into their game. I would stop and twirl around instead of passing the ball," McCarron said. "I was trying to do stuff that I'm not capable of doing."

Yugoslavia's tight full court press and its pesky, probing hands darting in on the ball presented McCarron and the other point guards problems bringing the ball up the court. Several times Yugoslavia stole the ball and went in for the easy lay-up.

A common theme throughout the first five weeks of SIUE's practice was the execution of a tenacious, tight, probing defense. Only occasionally did a defense of this caliber shine through for SIUE.

Time and time again, Yugoslavia passed the ball into to a post man for an easy two points.

When SIUE's defense did work, it was effective. Two times in a row in the second half, SIUE was successful in trapping a Yugoslavian player with the ball in the right hand corner of the court and forcing the turnover.

Pugliese tried several combinations of players on the court throughout the game but one was really no more effective than the other. Once Yugoslavia gained its lead, the closest SIUE ever came was five points with just over 15 minutes remaining in the game.

All was not bad for Pugliese and the Cougars, however. Randal Jones, the former Madison High School standout, led SIUE with 19 points. He was eight for 30 from the field and three for five from the free throw line.

Sales tax ruling leaves merchants scratching heads

We feel sorry for Quad-City merchants. On top of high interest rates, the continuing recession and other business-related problems, the yoyo effect of the city sales tax—collected yesterday, not collected today, possibly collected tomorrow—is one headache the merchants do not need.

Some have spent hundreds of dollars converting their computerized cash registers to collect the additional one percent sales tax passed by the city council, fully realizing that the tax was still subject to court review.

Now, Judge Edward Ferguson rules that the tax, in its present form, is unconstitutional, but could be constitutional, if a proper sales tax ordinance is passed by the council.

That was just what the merchants wanted to hear. In order to completely comply with the law, it appeared they should spend hundreds of dollars more to reprogram their computerized cash registers to eliminate the one percent city tax, only to risk having the city council pass another sales tax in a week or two and start the court cycle all over.

The Press-Record received several calls Thursday and Friday from merchants wanting to know what to do. Should the tax be collected Friday or not? The only advice we could give was to contact their attorneys.

Judge Ferguson's ruling Thursday seems clear enough. The tax, in its present form, is unconstitutional. Therefore, it is probably improper to collect it at this time. However, if the city appeals the ruling, and is successful in its appeal, it may turn out that the tax was a proper one all along and should have been collected.

The city council's intention also seems clear enough. Judge Ferguson left the door open for the council to pass another sales tax, changing the emphasis of the ordinance from a tax on occupations to a tax on consumers. "...however, the court is not ruling or determining as a matter of law or fact whether such re-enacted ordinance would be constitutional," the judge said in his written opinion.

In layman's terms, the judge is saying that the current ordinance is unconstitutional but the city can "try again" and he will rule on the new ordinance once it is passed. His ruling is fair. How can he rule on an ordinance that has not even been written yet?

The Press-Record strongly opposed the sales tax when it was first proposed by the city council, since it is a tax which puts a squeeze around the neck of Granite City businesses. They have to compete with businesses outside of the city limits, which can sell merchandise at a lower price.

The Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce strongly opposed the sales tax. K-Mart and Central Hardware urged the council not to do it. Auto dealers not only opposed the tax but fought it in court and have won the first round.

Businessmen know what is best for business. They should be listened to. We agree that the city is in need of additional cash, and fast, but still feel that the sales tax is the wrong way to go about it. Instead, we propose that the city take an open, outright approach.

If two additional police dispatchers are needed, and we know they are, a separate tax on property is available which is designed to fund additional police protection.

If the tax levy for garbage collection does not come close to meeting the actual cost of the service, the people should be told so and the tax levy should be raised to meet that cost.

If the sewage treatment plant is not self-sufficient, as it should be, continued hard review should be given to decreasing costs, but if a bottom-line is reached in costs, then the user fees should be aligned to the actual cost of operating the plant.

No like or more taxes, but it is clear that we are going to have to pay more, in some way. We think the people would feel better knowing where their money is going rather than paying it in their utility bill or when they go to the grocery store and having no idea whether the council will use it to paint more yellow lines down the middle of Roger Avenue and other side streets at a time when police dispatchers are laid off.

One thing is clear. City council debate over how to raise more money will continue and the current confusion over whether merchants should or should not collect the one percent sales tax will continue.

Confusion also continues over what merchants should do with the money they already have collected under the "unconstitutional" tax. Consumers who have paid the tax on large ticket items are waiting for an answer. The man who paid an extra $100 city tax on the purchase of a car is waiting to find out if he will get $100 back. Persons who have kept their grocery receipts during the period the tax was in effect are waiting to find out whether they are entitled to a refund.

Disposition of the taxes already collected was not touched by Judge Ferguson in his ruling. One thing is clear. The money belongs to the people who paid it and the merchants are entitled to some compensation for their outlays in converting computerized cash registers, instructing employees in collection of the new tax and additional bookkeeping required by the new tax.

Just how the pie will be divided is another question all will be watching in the weeks to come.

Chimney sweeps a necessary service

By GARY SCHNEIDER

of the Press-Record

In many countries, it is an honorable and honored profession. In America, it is just beginning to catch on.

The profession is chimney sweeping. Two chimney sweeps, who display the flare and costuming of traditional sweeps, have set up shop in Granite City. They are Ray and Diane Kramer, who operate Klean Sweep Chimney Service and can be reached at 877-0017. To arrange visits to homes by the two, donned in top hats and tails.

There were more than 40,000 chimney fires in the United States last year, causing more than $25 million in damages. Chimney fires have tripled in the last three years and are among the top 10 fire hazards at home," Ray Kramer explained.

"This is no surprise, since a lot more chimneys are going a lot more work in this country since the oil embargo of 1973. The high price of oil and gas has sent millions of Americans back to using wood and coal for heat," Diane added.

The lack of chimney sweeps in this area in the past has caused residents either to clean their own chimneys or to "live dangerously" and use their fireplaces year after year without having them cleaned.

When hot volatile gases released by burning wood or coal enter the cooler flue chamber and condense into a flakey, tar-like substance, called creosote, the sweeps explained. Wood-burning stoves have a higher smoke temperature, so more of the creosote condenses in the chimney. Green wood also produces more tar than well-seasoned wood.

It doesn't take too great a buildup of creosote to make the chimney a prime candidate for a chimney fire, the Kramers warned. "We are actually a safety service. Woodburning fireplaces should have the chimneys cleaned at least once a year and woodstoves and pellet stoves should be cleaned at least twice a year," Diane noted.

One of the reasons for the top hat and tails and the antics of most chimney sweeps is, admittedly, to attract attention, they noted. "We have the attention of people, they can warn them about the dangers of chimney fires. "With all the drainages, this is serious business," literature available to chimney sweeps stated.

"A buildup of creosote is very flammable. If limited, it burns with volcanic force, creating the flue lining and weakening the chimney. The first fire in a chimney is a terrifying experience. The second fire is often a total disaster," the literature added.

Annual or semi-annual chimney sweeps and inspections are required in most European countries as well as Canada, to avoid chimney fires, the sweeps said. Chimneys in Germany are inspected by the government twice a year and must be cleaned at least once a year. If more than a quarter of an inch of creosote is found, an immediate cleaning of the chimney is ordered.

Diane explained that the name Klean Sweep reflects the aim of the service. "We keep the house clean. There is no mess left and no dust when we leave," she pledged. She said she and Ray were trained by professionals in the cleaning field and use only the best equipment.

Most chimneys can be cleaned from the inside using a stiff, round wire brush, and extension poles. Some require cleaning from the roof, recalling the traditional images of chimney sweeps.

"Either way, when we leave, the house and the chimney will be clean," Diane concluded. Prices are reasonable, she said, and estimates can be arranged by calling the service at 877-0017.

On the sales of $5 million. He said the city would be a prime candidate for a chimney fire, the Kramers warned. "We are actually a safety service. Woodburning fireplaces should have the chimneys cleaned at least once a year and woodstoves and pellet stoves should be cleaned at least twice a year," Diane noted.

On the sales of $5 million. He said the city would be a prime candidate for a chimney fire, the Kramers warned. "We are actually a safety service. Woodburning fireplaces should have the chimneys cleaned at least once a year and woodstoves and pellet stoves should be cleaned at least twice a year," Diane noted.

One of the reasons for the top hat and tails and the antics of most chimney sweeps is, admittedly, to attract attention, they noted. "We have the attention of people, they can warn them about the dangers of chimney fires. "With all the drainages, this is serious business," literature available to chimney sweeps stated.

"A buildup of creosote is very flammable. If limited, it burns with volcanic force, creating the flue lining and weakening the chimney. The first fire in a chimney is a terrifying experience. The second fire is often a total disaster," the literature added.

Annual or semi-annual chimney sweeps and inspections are required in most European countries as well as Canada, to avoid chimney fires, the sweeps said. Chimneys in Germany are inspected by the government twice a year and must be cleaned at least once a year. If more than a quarter of an inch of creosote is found, an immediate cleaning of the chimney is ordered.

Diane explained that the name Klean Sweep reflects the aim of the service. "We keep the house clean. There is no mess left and no dust when we leave," she pledged. She said she and Ray were trained by professionals in the cleaning field and use only the best equipment.

Most chimneys can be cleaned from the inside using a stiff, round wire brush, and extension poles. Some require cleaning from the roof, recalling the traditional images of chimney sweeps.

"Either way, when we leave, the house and the chimney will be clean," Diane concluded. Prices are reasonable, she said, and estimates can be arranged by calling the service at 877-0017.

Utility tax

"They gave you impression it was a workable solution," Schuman said. "I suppose this is the first challenge."

If the tax cannot be appealed, he said, drastic action will have to be taken which will certainly include further employee cuts, at least for this year.

If the council had supported his initial stand—to increase the levy by $500,000 to cut back employees by 20 percent—the city's revenue problems may not have become a "three-ring circus."

Schuman said the federal government is continuing to require local municipalities to provide expensive programs, such as the secondary wastewater treatment plant. At the same time is preparing to withdraw support in the form of federal revenue sharing funds. "I don't know what they expect of municipalities," Schuman said.

Although he supports limited property tax increases, he said aldermen will have to "hold the line" on raises which might prevent young families from owning homes.

"We believe in family. Break that up and you've got problems," Schuman said. "I think we just don't have too many avenues to turn to. I don't know what the answer is."

Third Ward Alderman Carl Kittel said he had been against the sales tax, saying his priority had been a utility tax, but he would "very definitely" support a luxury tax.

"I'm glad that I voted right...but that puts us without any money," Kittel said.

Kittel said he thinks the residents of Granite City are not prepared for another cut in city employees and will not back to advising the city.

Kittel suggested the city study closing the West Granite City fire station and eliminating one ambulance, since the 19th Street overpass is completed. He also said the city can enforce certain trash collection regulations, which might reduce the cost of the trash contract.

"We are behind all other cities as far as sewage tax goes," Kittel said, suggesting that might also be a way to eliminate the drain the plant has put on the general fund.

Alderman Warren Decatur of the Fourth Ward, another alderman who had backed to advising the city, said he was surprised at the last meeting to find the city further in debt and wants to talk to the auditor first on "whatever happened" to last year's budget.

He blames the city administration for not keeping aldermen properly informed. "They told us we would be OK last year," Modrusis said aldermen have to depend on the administration for current information, since they cannot always be at city hall themselves. We have tried very hard to keep everybody working," the alderman said, but, "we're in trouble now."

The other Seventh Ward alderman, Bowler, said, "We better reconsider and see what services are vital and essential and cut what is not essential. Maybe only the fire, police and ambulance services and a few other things like garbage collection and one crew to keep the street maintained is all we can afford."

The council will meet at 5 p.m. Tuesday in the town hall, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue, to further discuss the results of the judge's decision and try to determine a future path upon which to guide the city's finances.

"We really needed the sales tax," Mrs. Nomm said. She said she does not want to vote for any other taxes, but probably will support a utility or luxury tax.

"I know we need it, but don't want it," Mrs. Nomm said. She said she would support a utility tax, but might support a luxury tax. He said Illinois is already an expensive state for industry and a utility tax would be an extra burden. "It was the best tax we could go for," Sixth Ward Alderman Mac Warfield said about the sales tax.

He said he can live with further employee cuts, but an effort will have to be made to keep enough employees in the emergency departments. Warfield said he would not have approved $600,000 in additional anticipation warrants recently passed by the council. Instead, Saltsch said, aldermen should eliminate "all party (political) jobs" in the city administration. He said at least two city attorney positions could be terminated, along with 20 percent of the street department employees and "quite a few" city hall jobs.

Saltsch said he would, at least temporarily, eliminate most "clean up" jobs now done by the street department.

He said he will never vote for a luxury tax, but might be convinced to support a utility tax.

Dislikes reporting on absences

To the Editor:

Reporting on a meeting of the Madison School Board in a recent edition of your newspaper, your reporter took the "unusual" step of pointing out that "Don Garrett was the only member not present."

Least my constituents feel that they are not adequately being served, let me please use your newspaper to point out to them my reason for not being present in the course of so doing, I hopefully will reveal some news to your reporter that is of "real" significance. In fact, if your reporter had only inquired about my absence, he would have had, in my opinion as a former editor and reporter, a "real" scoop.

On the night in question, I chose to attend a meeting of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee, of which I am a member, at Charlie's in Granite City. At that meeting, members of the Madison County Democratic Party screening committee were to be selected. The selection and make-up of that committee is something I consider to be of extreme importance to my constituents, and especially to black people.

Understand that never before has a black person served on the screening committee. This time, on the basis of a motion made by me, the members of the Madison County Democratic Party screening committee were to be selected. The selection and make-up of that committee is something I consider to be of extreme importance to my constituents, and especially to black people.

recognize this as a significant progressive step.

Without going into great detail, I believe that the Madison County Democratic Party screening committee does, just let me say that few people are elected to major offices in Madison County without appearing before and gaining the approval of that committee.

Black voters in Madison, Venice, Eagle Park have long been good, solid, loyal Democrats and, because of that, have helped to make the Democratic Party a powerhouse in Madison County politics. Many of these voters in Madison County have been elected to office with the help of black votes, but because they were not confronted by blacks on the screening committee, they felt no particular need to respond to the needs of black citizens. The presence of blacks on the screening committee was not only well deserved, but much needed.

Significantly though, I only asked for one black member, but members of the Central Committee, in all their fairness, chose to place two black members on the committee. My thanks to all the members for their unanimous support of my motion and for reaffirming my faith that the Democratic Party is indeed the party of all the people.

My apologies to Chairman Christ Costoff and Secretary Sam Wolf for releasing this information in advance of party announcement and without prior approval. I am sure that they will understand that I, like all Democrats, am always hard at work serving the cause of my constituents and that I am not a person who is upset when a reporter, or anybody else, tries to indicate something to the contrary.

If the Press-Record is concerned with the advancement of all people on an issue raised by this or any other newspaper, it is a news "scoop." Not just because of its political significance, but its historical, "first-time," significance also.

Because I was present at that meeting, instead of the school board meeting, I was able to strike a significant blow for justice, human dignity, and progress.

My thanks to Chairman Christ Costoff, secretary Sam Wolf and members of the Party for selecting me to serve on the screening committee.

Illinois House Speaker George Ryan, as well as his foe for the Republican lieutenant governor nomination, State Sen. Donald Totten, will attend tonight's Madison County Republican convention at Edwardsville.

State's Attorney Donald Weber is backing Totten and Governor James R. Thompson favors Ryan. The county GOP expects to have candidates for state representative positions and county clerk, but is unlikely to oppose the Democratic county clerk and sheriff.

Nameoki Presbyterian shares 'gift of food'

"The Thanksgiving Eve service at Nameoki Presbyterian Church will afford participants an opportunity to share the gift of food with less fortunate residents of our community," the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor, said today.

The service will begin at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the church sanctuary at 1700 Pontoon Road. The community is cordially invited to share in traditional songs of Thanksgiving and familiar scriptures, the minister said.

Discussing the food sharing program, the Rev. Pierson stated, "Many needy families do not meet the requirements of emergency aid from community agencies.

"Therefore, we have developed a relationship with skilled professionals in the social service field who become aware of these families."

He explained the Nameoki Presbyterian Church has operated a "Crisis Center" to provide food for distressed families for the past three years.

The food offering at the Thanksgiving Eve service will replenish the church "crisis pantry," the pastor said.

"Now Than We All Our God" will be the theme of the Thanksgiving message to be delivered by Pastor Pierson.

Lutheran service Thanksgiving Eve

Thanksgiving Eve worship services will be held at St. John Lutheran Church, 2001 St. Clair Avenue, at 7 p.m. Wednesday, the Rev. Samuel Boda, pastor, announced today.

To observe the Thanksgiving season, a table has been set in front of the chancel where members of the congregation are placing gifts of foods for needy families, the pastor said.

Five Thanksgiving baskets were prepared and delivered during the weekend and 15 to 20 additional baskets of food will be collected for distribution prior to Christmas, the pastor said.

Church members are being encouraged to bring a variety of staples and canned goods to the church. Thanksgiving Eve services as a demonstration of gratitude for the Lord's generosity they have received during the past year, Rev. Boda said.

The public is invited to attend Wednesday's program at which Holy Communion, a eucharistic service of thanksgiving, will be celebrated.

Mrs. Sarah Repp will be organist at the service and the Rev. Boda will deliver the Thanksgiving message.

Under the direction of Leonard and Dorothy Hoffman, the St. John Lutheran congregation is sponsoring a fall clothing drive for needy families in the East St. Louis area.

Donations of adult clothing, blankets, quilts, sweaters and good usable children's clothing may be brought to the church fellowship hall, the pastor said.

Concordia Services

Concordia Lutheran Church, 23rd Street and Grand Avenue, will respond to the national call for Thanksgiving with a special Thanksgiving morning service at 9 a.m. Thursday.

The choir, under the direction of Ruth Rankin, will sing "Let All the World in Every Corner Sing," with Denise Rankin at the organ.

The Rev. Arvin Twietmeyer, pastor, will lead the worshippers on this occasion with his sermon topic, "Thankfulness Follows Deprivation."

Serving as acolytes will be

Steve Kienle and Douglas Rankin.

"We regularly worship on Thanksgiving Day and invite our community to take time out on Thanksgiving morning to praise God with us for a multitude of national blessings," the minister said this week.

planes, with all expenses paid. "Was he a big spender? He had people falling at his feet down there," one commented. "It was like in the movies, like he was some kind of celebrity. There were 20 guys following him around—get me this, get me that."

ITEM: There are allegations that over the past several years, Brimberry—senior vice-president of Six when the brokerage collapsed—spent millions of dollars at gambling casinos, including the MGM Grand Hotel and the Desert Inn, both in Las Vegas.

ITEM: Federal authorities contend that Brimberry established a $20,000 line of credit in 1978 at a casino in Reno, and that he had credit of up to $11,000 at a gambling club in Nassau.

ITEM: James Massa of Collinsville, Brimberry's attorney in recent years and also the majority owner of Six, is alleged to have established $25,000 in credit at the Desert Inn casino and $10,000 in credit at the Frontier Hotel casino in Las Vegas.

ITEM: Massa said in early November that Six had completed plans to open a branch office in Las Vegas.

ITEM: Acquaintances say Massa in recent years has had the reputation of being a "high roller," with a fondness for Las Vegas casinos.

ITEM: There was heavy trading in various Six accounts during October 1981 for stock of the Colonial Commercial Corp., a New York firm that once tried to buy the Aladdin Hotel and Casino in Las Vegas.

ITEM: A suit filed by two Six customers on June 8, 1980, in the U.S. District Court against Six & Co., Brimberry and two other company officers claimed that Six and its employees violated securities laws in the sale of stock in King International, Inc., and Colonial Commercial Corp. It was settled out of court.

ITEM: The same suit alleged misrepresentation on an investment in a firm building an Atlantic City hotel and casino.

ITEM: Depositions in that lawsuit indicated that Brimberry was interested in buying stock in Las Vegas casinos.

What these facts and allegations add up to is still unclear, but it is obvious that some of the Six personnel had a long-standing affinity for large monetary ventures, both in stock transactions and at gaming tables.

Even though there may be few losses for small investors at Six—if Friday's takeover agreement with Bache is approved in court—a few individuals are expected to suffer major financial losses.

And Securities Investor Protection Corporation officials say the overall loss will be gigantic. It could be one of the costliest, or perhaps the costliest, of such frauds ever perpetrated in the United States, the SIPC asserts.

Projections indicate that Six accounts were loaded as much as $36 million, although no one has yet been charged with an offense. There is a $14 negative imbalance between Six debts and assets.

The protection corporation's biggest payout to date, $1 million, was to customers of Wells Securities, a New York Stock Exchange member that failed in 1973.

For the ten years ending last Dec. 31, Securities Investor Protection paid a total of $56 million to customers of 143 failed firms.

Stix, a member of the Midwest Stock Exchange, was closed Nov. 5 and liquidated Nov. 9.

When Harry O. Poline Jr. was appointed as trustee Nov. 9 by Chief U.S. District Judge H. Kenneth Wangelin in St. Louis, he made it his first goal to find a suitable company to shoulder the Six firm's accounts and to operate some of its offices.

Wangelin ordered the Stix liquidation after declaring that massive amounts of securities were missing and that the firm was insolvent.

"We got the accounts because of our speed and efficiency and because we are a large, national brokerage firm," Joseph D. Lehrer, attorney who negotiated for Bache with Moline, said after Friday's announcement.

Moline noted that the Stix collapse created a financial burden for at least some of the 5,000 to 6,000 investors whose stocks, bonds and cash had been placed earlier in Stix vaults.

The SIPC insured each Stix account to a large amount, but customers would have been required to file claims through the trustee and then would have to wait several months to get their securities or payment.

With the "bulk transfer" agreement reached Friday with Bache, Moline hopes the Six accounts can be turned over to Bache by Dec. 7 or 11, an innovative procedure that he thinks will set an example for future brokerage liquidations.

The pact is subject to approval by federal Bankruptcy Judge Robert E. Brauer.

John H. Becker, vice-president and manager of Bache in St. Louis, said during the weekend, "From what I've seen, with the exception of the lost (Brimberry-controlled) accounts that we've been reading about, it looks like the rest of the accounts are in very good condition."

In another development stemming from the complex case, Jerry Ackerman and Jim Hill of Ackerman Bank in north St. Louis County say they bought seven autos from Brimberry Nov. 3, two days before the Stix insolvency became known to the public.

The vehicles were described, as worth about $90,000 when new and included a 1980 Cadillac Eldorado, 1979 Corvette and Oldsmobile Toronado, 1980 Olds 88, 1981 Mercury Marquis, 1981 Olds station wagon and 1980 Olds Cutlass.

Hill, used car manager at Ackerman, said the car titles were in Brimberry's name or E & M Security, a company Brimberry formed to provide security guards at his palatial home here on Parkway Drive.

Ackerman obtained clear title to the autos, at least one of which has been resold.

Hill said he and Ackerman went to several places in Granite City to see the cars and then completed the transaction at the Brimberry home, where Hill was impressed by palm and orange trees and landscaping around one of the outdoor swimming pools. At the residence, furniture was being placed in moving vans at that time, Hill noted.

He described the seven autos as luxury cars "loaded with equipment." Some had telephones that the dealer removed.

In another action to obtain cash, Brimberry recently authorized sale of his latest home and also a smaller residence where he previously lived.

He also has taken a second mortgage for $100,000 on the large home on Parkway Drive, variously estimated as being worth $400,000 to more than $1 million. The house on Bluebird Lane is being offered at about $75,000.

The second mortgage is with Walker & Walker Corp., the Belleville law firm of Edward G. Maag, who is representing Brimberry in the Stix case. Maag is the one through whom Brimberry has maintained contact with the world since the sensational disclosures made headlines early this month.

The mortgage with Walker & Walker, dated Nov. 10, was filed with the Madison County recorder of deeds.

On Dec. 17, 1980, Brimberry had filed a mortgage for $250,000 with the Bank of Edwardsville for the home and seven lots on which it is built. That mortgage contained a schedule listing for $3,139 monthly payments with the balance due Dec. 15, 1985.

The residence is unusual not only in its size but also the care taken with its design, equipment and decorating. It is said that no expense was spared in making trips to distant states like California and Arizona for such items as carpeting and interior effects.

One count showed several dozen telephone jacks into which portable phones can be connected. In addition to the principal swimming pool, there are a children's pool and an outdoor hot tub.

For each child, there is a suite containing a sitting room, bedroom, play area and bathroom.

An interior sauna is capable of being converted to a variety of simulated weather conditions. Bathroom fixtures are described as elegant.

Along with a butcher block and built-in toaster and can opener, the kitchen has a pastry case with a refrigerated section. The main refrigerator has carved wooden doors.

The grounds of the home are well lighted and are surrounded by a fence of brick columns and wrought iron, with large iron gates.

CHILD HIT BY CAR

Jacqueline Clemons, 7, of 1932 Fourth St., suffered a broken leg after being struck, at 8:15 a.m. Thursday near Sixth Street and McCann bridge Avenue, Madison, by an auto driven by Joseph G. Urahn, 214 Grand Ave.

According to a police report, witnesses said the child ran into the highway between Madison Center and was struck. It was noted that the accident happened 154 feet from a school crossing guard and signs light. She was reported to be in good condition in St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The three boys were neighbors of Granger in East Alton. Police said the Granger auto was northbound on Route 111 and Mr. Gumbel's auto was southbound. The vehicles allegedly collided in the northbound lane according to a police spokesman.

Bank to form a holding company Initial courthouse pay offer rejected

Creation of a one-bank holding company is the purpose of a merger procedure being initiated by the First Granite City National Bank, 20th Street and S. Edison Avenue, President Melvin C. Wilmshyer told the Press-Record Friday.

It is planned to establish the company through a meeting of shareholders at 2 p.m. Dec. 22. Directors already have approved the merger plan.

After a new state law takes effect Jan. 1, such holding companies will be permitted to own more banks than one.

The merger with an "interim" bank, to be called the Edison Avenue National Bank, conforms to steps outlined by the U.S. comptroller of the currency. The successor bank will be chartered as Edison Avenue National but will continue to operate as the First Granite City National Bank of the county. The comptroller of the currency said he has "granted" preliminary conditional approval to the application to form Edison Avenue National Bank for the sole purpose of facilitating the establishment of a bank holding company.

The merger application was accepted for filing today.

Those wishing to comment on the interim bank application or the merger proposal may submit written comments to: Director, Bank Organization and Structure Division, Comptroller of the Currency, 490 L'Enfant Plaza, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20219.

The public file is open for inspection in the Chicago regional office, Sears Tower Suite 5750.

Local 799, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, last week rejected the first 1982 contract proposal from negotiators for the Madison County government. The fiscal year begins Dec. 1.

Bargaining will continue and no deadline has been set for completion of the negotiations, Local 799 President Joanna Watson said.

County negotiators also are participating in contract talks with Operating Engineers Local 520, representing sheriff deputies, and Teamsters Local 626, which bargains for the highway and animal control departments.

AFCME represents most employees at the County Courthouse.

"Reports indicate the county offered courthouse workers hourly raises of 50 cents for 1982 and another 45 cents for 1983, while offering deputies raises of 80 and 90 cents. The county hopes to end cost-of-living allowances for both groups."

Madison County officials have cited a financial squeeze. They say that if pay levels rise too fast, some layoffs will be necessary.

Herbert "Junior" Milon of the County Board, negotiating committee chairman, has said the three negotiation processes are separate and unrelated, although acknowledging that the various unions "will talk to each other" about what has been offered.

One courthouse employee has contended there is a "double standard," with deputies and highway workers (mostly men) offered better pay, sick leave and longevity than courthouse workers (mostly women).

Another conceded that deputies sometimes must deal with "life threatening situations"—working conditions that might justify higher pay for them.

GC police thwart hydrant vandalism

Cheating on radio dispatches of fire hydrants being opened at 1:25 a.m. Saturday at 9th and State streets and at the 22nd Street railroad crossing, police noticed a third hydrant turned on at W. 24th Street and Missouri Avenue and then began driving along W. 24th with their headlights off.

Officers alleged seeing Mickey L. Bays, 18, of 1728 Delmar Ave. driving a blue auto, matching the description of the car they were seeking. And they asserted they saw Charles L. Lowry, 27, of 2134 Ohio run to the auto after turning a valve on a hydrant at W. 24th and Ohio Avenue.

The car was halted by the police at W. 24th and Ohio and both occupants were charged with criminal damage to fire hydrant apparatus. Lowry also was booked for curfew violation.

A tool allegedly used to turn the hydrant on at W. 24th and Ohio was confiscated from the auto as evidence.

The two were freed Saturday. Lowry posted $187 cash bond and Bays, $102.

Auxiliary plans party and dance

The Madison City and Democrat Auxiliary met at the Madison Recreation Center last week with President Zella Niehaus in charge.

Members pledged allegiance to the flag and Chaplain Elizabeth Yankoff read the evening prayer.

Members voted to donate $1,000 to the Madison Volunteer Fire Department. A contribution of $25 was made to the Madison Junior Service Club's "Evening with Santa," the annual party for children.

It was reported that the next Black Cat Dance will be held on Friday, Oct. 1st, 1982. The club's annual Christmas party will be held on the regular meeting night, Monday, Dec. 31, at the Lion's Home in Madison. Dinner will be served at 7:30, followed by dancing. The event is free to members.

Guests wishing to attend may make reservations with Judy Donaldson at the Madison City Hall at a cost of $10 per person, which includes food, drinks and dancing. The women will have a $5 gift exchange.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Niehaus, Ida Dant, Maxine Costoff, Elizabeth Yankoff, Hilda Grayville, Angela Vavra, Mary Cromer, Mollie Besserman, Julia Voloski, Lenora Grieve, Blondie Dillon, LeVerna Harris, Catherine Hakkarainen, Irma Manning, Winnie Sasyk, Laura Peach, Cynthia Heady, Connie Almira, Judy Donaldson, Sophia Dutko, Marie Hoekstra, Sadie Wojcik, Mary Rogenski, Christine Green, Jeanne Amour, Helen Knezevich, Dollie Smith and Mary Bucherich.

BPW pays tribute to past presidents

Special honors were accorded to nine past presidents of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club, who were among those attending the group's dinner meeting last week at Char's Restaurant, near Collinsville.

Among those honored were Elvira Thurber, who served as president in 1950-51, Delores Allen, 1959-60, Verne Lengyel, 1961-62, Helene Bischoff, 1963, Lillian Marzluft, 1973, Annellen Smith, 1974, Sylvia Wright, 1976, Lois Wetton, 1978, and LeVelle Stephens, 1979.

Florence Moore, dinner chairman, welcomed the members and special guests, including Annellen Smith, president-elect of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women, Mrs. Wetton, District 14 director, and Mrs. Stephens, district finance chairman. All three are past presidents of the Granite City club.

In a "Tree of Life" ceremony, each past president was escorted by Ann Graklanoff and Hazel Rollins to place her name on the symbolic tree.

Later, the tree was presented to Ollie Derr, the current BPW president, as a memento of the traditional dinner party.

A letter was read from Dorothy Buenger, who served as the club's first president in 1921 and now resides in St. Louis. She enclosed a $50 donation for club use.

Her gift will be added to funds from the Community Affairs budget to help purchase communication equipment for a former BPW member now residing in a nursing facility.

Musical entertainment was provided by Larry Heagy and Joanne Pieper, who presented a selection of four songs. Both young people are members of the Granite City Church and perform at various functions, including church services each Sunday.

Miss Pieper is studying toward a degree at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and is employed at Ferd's Flowers, a business owned by her family.

Henry, a student at St. Louis University School of Nursing, is working toward a degree in anesthesiology. Currently he is serving as the first male president of the Nurse's Association at the university.

Others serving on the dinner's arrangement committee were Becky Slate, Lela Ginning, Ramona Burnett, Anna Mae Gates, Jeanette Kampen, Nina Limbaugh, Ruth Milhouser, Mrs. Rollins and Mrs. Graklanoff.

ALTERATION WITH CREW OF AMBULANCE
Wilson A. Mitchell, 54, of 2162 State St. was arrested there at 1:55 a.m. Thursday for battery, assault and disorderly conduct. He pleaded innocent at a hearing at 4 p.m. Thursday before Circuit Judge Charles Chapman.

Mitchell allegedly demanded that an ambulance crew transport an apparently well woman whom he described as having a heart attack. Witnesses said the crew members were told they would be shot if they did not comply, and one crewman was struck on the shoulder with a fist.

Nose and facial bones fractured

A 23-year-old St. Louisian is being sought for aggravated battery after severely injuring Kerry Dionea, 2857 Cleveland Boulevard, at 1:50 p.m. Thursday on the parking lot near Long John Silver's restaurant on Nameoki Road.

The assailant struck and broke Dionea's nose, threw him against an auto, pulled the victim's shirt over his head and then punched him five times around the left eye, fracturing the orbital bone and causing blood to enter the atrium of the eye. Surgery was scheduled for Friday as a result of the injuries.

A woman companion of the St. Louisian later said he had waved the Dionea car onto the parking lot after becoming angry when he thought the Dionea vehicle had cut in front of his auto on Nameoki Road near Pontoon Road.

Cigarette causes four-auto crash and three injuries

When a companion accidentally dropped a cigarette, Lora Lopez, 21, of 3240 Edgewood—driving north on Delmar Avenue at 9:40 p.m. Friday—reached to protect one-year-old Danny Lopez from being burned. A four-auto crash resulted, injuring the two and Maria Lopez, 17, of 1712 Spruce St., the other passenger.

The three were taken by ambulance for treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Lora Lopez suffered chin lacerations, and Maria Lopez received forehead abrasions.

Authorities said the car crossed the center line of the street and its front end hit the left front of the auto of Franklin Alae, 2317 Delmar, parked facing south.

The Lopez vehicle next went through the front yard at 2319 Delmar and entered the driveway of Charles Anderson, 2321 Delmar, colliding with the left side of Anderson's parked car.

The Alae auto, meanwhile, rolled backward from the impact and its right rear struck the left side of another Anderson vehicle, parked on Delmar facing south.

Melissa has grown up

By ALLAN L. GANSBERG

HOLLYWOOD — MELISSA GILBERT is a young lady who's grown up on television. The legion of loyal "Little House on the Prairie" viewers may be surprised to learn that not only is Laura Ingalls a woman now — as witnessed by her performance in "Splendor in the Grass" — but she's just a year away from college and perhaps a career outside show business.

"I'd like to stay in acting," she said. "But I also am considering becoming an obstetrician or a pediatrician. Actually, there was a time when I thought about becoming a brain surgeon, but that's so depressing."

Melissa would like to attend an Ivy League school in the East and study both the sciences and theater. Meanwhile, thanks to "Splendor in the Grass" she now has credit as a producer under her belt.

"I can't say that I really functioned as a producer, although it was my production company that did the show. I was involved in the casting decisions, though. I think that when I turn 18 on my next birthday I'll be able to take a much more active role."

Meanwhile, she's committed to one more year of "Little House." Melissa says this will be her last regardless of whether or not executive producer and star MICHAEL LONDON decides to continue.

Although the focus of the show may have moved somewhat away from time to time, the story line this year will feature more of the Laura character's ups and downs.

Melissa wouldn't give away all the plans, but she did say that in keeping with the books on which the series is based, Laura would give birth to a girl this season and her husband would survive a stroke.

"At least that's what happens in the books," she repeated.

This TV season more star faces than ever before are on the small screen. Add to the list GREGORY PECK, who has made only rare appearances and never worked on a TV drama. That is, before accepting a cameo role as Abraham Lincoln in the upcoming CBS mini-series "The Blue and the Gray," which traces a family with both Northern and Southern members through the horrors of the Civil War.

After his success with "My Bodyguard," actor-producer TONY BILL vowed he'd do more directing. His next project has just been announced. Tony will guide DUDLEY MOORE through "Six Weeks," a love story and the British comedian's first dramatic role. Moore just can't work enough these days. He's scheduled to make two more films within the next nine months, including "Dangerously."

CLORIS LEACHMAN is perturbed. The Academy Award- and Emmy-winning actress did a movie called "Dear Lonelyhearts" that was supposed to be a pilot for a series. The movie has yet to air, but Cloris is convinced that the role of an advice to the lovelorn columnist is perfect for her. KELLY BISHOP, who won a Tony for "A Chorus Line," also stars.

Joining the list of actors who produce their own movies is SALLY FIELD, who is set to star in "Shadow," a comedy about four women reunited at a wedding shower. Sally will take both star and executive producer billing.

The advance word on the film version of "Annie" is that the story of the comic-strip orphan is going to be a smash. Even objective Hollywood observers who have seen what director JOHN HUSTON has completed, say the picture has blockbuster potential. CAROL BURNETT and ALBERT FINNEY star.
